2. Token Classification

PulseCoin is issued as a utility-aligned BEP-20 token. It does not represent equity, debt, or any contractual right to revenue from the project team. Holders acquire the token at their own risk and discretion.

3. Transparency Commitments

- All token movements are recorded on the public BNB Smart Chain ledger.
- Source code is verified and publicly readable on BscScan.
- Tokenomics, roadmap and whitepaper are published on the official site.
- An independent third-party security audit is scheduled for 2026.
- Material project updates will be communicated through official channels.

4. Risk Disclosures

- Price volatility — token value may fluctuate significantly.
- Liquidity risk — secondary market depth may vary by venue.
- Regulatory risk — digital-asset rules vary by jurisdiction and may change.
- Smart contract risk — residual risk exists despite verification and review.
- No guarantee of listing on any centralized exchange.

5. Jurisdictional Notice

This document does not constitute an offer or solicitation in any jurisdiction where such an offer would be unlawful. Prospective participants are responsible for ensuring compliance with their local laws and regulations before interacting with the token.

6. Contact & Verification

Verification artifacts (contract address, verified source, holder distribution, live charts) are linked from the official PulseCoin website under the Audit & Transparency page. Inquiries from exchanges, partners and institutional investors are welcomed.
